

12/17 DPB Open Meeting Minutes

There is no money in the treasury.

Next meeting is Wednesday, 12/21.

Shortigo wants everyone to know that he has discovered some delicious almonds. Joy.

Modelers:

Golden Eagle hasn't done anything because the modelers need to have a meeting.

Nobody offers to show the team how to do AO baking.

Mappers:

Shortigo's computer is dying.

Coders:

Vino is incredibly busy, and so far hasn't gotten much time to work on anything

Web:

Adrenaline installed IRC and the Arcade into the forums.

Old Business:

Kuja says that everyone should have subversion access, and that in addition everyone should be receiving DPB-DEV emails. If both of the above aren't happening, you need to contact Kuja ASAP.

Motion Capture is discussed. It'll have to be saved for the full game, as there isn't time for it in the demo. Jonah goes to CMU, which has a major motion capture animation place thingy. We'd be looking to do it on the cheap, or free.

New Business:

Centralized Statistics server is generally agreed upon to be a good idea. Leave the implementation details up to Vino.

Damaakus is volunteered to be the voice for the radio commands

Kuja motions to adjourn. Motion passes, 4-0-0.
